

We Thought You Would Find These Articles Interesting . . .

Purpose: Save members time and keep them up to date on interesting articles.

• Decision Time: Deductible Repair or Capital Improvement? The IRS's new regulations regarding repairs and capitalizations are now in effect, and they could have a significant impact on your bottom line for 2014. Is your company ready?

Click to Read Full Article

• Paradigm Shift: Building a New Talent Management Model to Boost Growth Almost five years after the financial crisis began, a sustained global recovery remains elusive. A fundamental change in thinking is required to tackle the talent shortfall. Learn more.

Click to Read Full Article

• Employee Theft: Is it Happening to You? Employee theft is rampant in small to mid-size businesses. This article explains five ways workers can purloin cash, time or computer access and what you can do about it.

Click to Read Full Article

• How to be a Transformational CFO By embracing three fundamental beliefs, a CFO can connect the processes of an organizations with the needs of the customers. Do you hold those three beliefs?

Click to Read Full Article

• Considerations for Minority Equity Interest Owners This lawyer-written article outlines for financial executives the protections a minority investor might want to seek and discusses exit-strategy options. Test your knowledge.

Click to Read Full Article

• Three Tips to Make Standard Cost Accounting More Effective Getting closer to actual cost allows account to have a better handle on financial reporting and gives operations a greatly improved understanding of their actual production costs. Learn how.

Click to Read Full Article